SUSTAINABILITY IN CIVIL ENGINEERING

ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Illinois Section
Founded 1916

This award is presented to Civil Engineering Projects within the ASCE Illinois Section that exhibit the greatest innovation in sustainability. ASCE's definition of sustainability and Policy Statement 418 can be found at this link: Policy statement 418 - The role of the civil engineer in sustainable development | ASCE. The following criteria will be considered in the selection process:

- Projects must be located in the Illinois Section boundaries.
- Projects constructed in the six-year period preceding the year of award are eligible.
- Projects must demonstrate creativity and innovation in sustainability.
- Projects must demonstrate adherence to the principles of economic, social and environmental sustainability.
- The criteria used to evaluate projects are:
 - ❖ The extent to which innovative design or construction methods improve economic, social and environmental sustainability;
 - ❖ The promise shown by the innovation to extend future developments in sustainability;
 - ❖ The degree to which the project extends public understanding of sustainability in construction.
- The recipient of this award shall be recommended by the Illinois Section Sustainability Committee to the Awards Committee and Illinois Section Board for final approval. Entries not selected to receive the award may be carried over for reconsideration in the following year provided they remain eligible within the six-year completion period.
